Short Description

Frogs of South Australia is authored by Australia's most prevalent authority on amphibians, Michael J Tyler.

Description

Frogs of South Australia is the third edition of Mike Tyler's efforts to document all the species of amphibians found in South Australia. This title is one of few current herpetological field guides in Australia that features dichotomous keys - a system that is very handy when identifying similar frogs in the field. Aside from the keys, it also exhibits other great features, such as "dot point" locality maps, multiple half-page photographs of each species showing variances and descriptions of each species call.
